

Type 96 Japanese light machine gun (6.5mm)

Weight: Unloaded, 20 lbs (9.07 kg)
Overall Length: 41.5 in (1054 mm)
Muzzle velocity: 2400 feet per second. (732 m.p.s.)
Cyclic Rate of Fire: 550 rpm
Magazine: 30 round detachable box
Ammunition: Reduced-charge version of Meiji 30 infantry cartridge
Barrel: 21.7 in (552 mm), 4 grooves, right hand twist
Effective Range: 600 yards, (550 meters) because of light bullet weight
Sight: Frequently low power scope

HMS Cornflower's launch carrying the escape party from Aberdeen on Christmas Day 1941 came under attack from Pill Box 12 located at the South West point of Brick Hill by two Japanese machine guns.

The bullet removed from Admiral Chan Chak's wrist was a 6.5mm and is presently on display in the Hong Kong Museum of Coastal Defence

The 6.5mm bullet removed from Admiral Chan Chak's wrist with his pocket watch.